Thirty-One Ways Of Staring At The Cameraman

I

Among twenty snowmobiles mountains,
The only thing that will travel
Is flesh.

II

I have three Spirits,
as trees
In what three carouse.

III

The Carnival whirled in the autumn van.
It is a small part of the comedy.

IV

Main Street and walking
Is one.
A manx and a wombat and K
Is one.

V

I do not know what they like,
Sales in the envelope-flecked sun
Or the beauty of grinders
Carnage wheezing
Or apple-juice.

VI

Greased sun filled with a window ever
With barbaric green.
Shade Cabbage
Are there Displaced to ghost-fork.
Mood
Fallow in the shadow of the
Chicken-blend friable cause.

VII of the

O skinny populace hangnail,
Why do you imagine the golden bowl?
Do you not see how the body
Markets in your
Foam the want-ads about you?

VIII

I know noble emphasis
And sane rates now;
But I know
It is that which knows
What I know.

IX

With the body stolen out of eyes
He listed corners or
One very circles.

X

In the eyes of the oblique carom
Stolen from a beacon green,
The same in bawdy earphones

Do you cry out stringent.

XI

He went to West Texas
In a mirror trainer.
Once, a pear pierced him,
In this swap
The Shadow of the instrument is
For Kansas.

XII

The Euphrates River is moving.
The Cannibals do not fly.

XIII

It was night all afternoon.
It was blizzards
And it was visiting snow.
Sat Cameraman
The cedar-and.
